PREFATORY NOTE

The classification scheme for education was developed on the basis of the Library of Congress collection in the course of its reclassification. The first edition of the schedule, published in 1910, represents the work of several classifiers who have been successively in charge of this subject: Mr. J. C. Bay and Mr. W. D. Johnston, who prepared the schedule for Section L and some portions of Sections LA to LF; Mr. A. F. W. Schmidt completed and partly reconstructed the schedule and classified the greater part of the entire collection; Dr. J. D. Wolcott worked out in detail Sections LC, LJ, and LT, and contributed to the further development of other sections. A second edition was issued in 1928 incorporating such additions and revisions as were made, while Dr. G. M. Churchill and Mr. C. K. Jones were in charge of this class. Since then Mr. C. K. Jones, Mr. L. E. La Montagne, Dr. R. O. Suter, Mr. Philip Krichbaum, and Dr. Leonard Ellinwood have been successively in charge. They have contributed most of the additions and changes made since 1928 and included in the present (third) edition.

The library of the United States Office of Education adopted the scheme with the addition of a few subjects of special interest to it, which in the Library of Congress form subdivisions of other subjects. These additions have been included in the schedules only by references to other classification schedules and are distinguished by curves enclosing the respective numbers.

The present edition has been edited and prepared for printing by Miss L. Belle Voegelein, Editor of Classification Schedules.

DAVID JUDSON HAYKIN,
Chief of the Subject Cataloging Division.

CONTINENTAL EUROPE

The numbers in curves assigned to European universities are the numbers which would be preferred in classifications made since the European war. While it has not been found practicable to use them in the Library of Congress, at present, they are printed as a guide to present nationalities and a suggestion to libraries not already classified by the older scheme.
